

Strings

Practice Questions

1. What is a string?
2. What is meant when it is stated that a string is immutable?
3. What is the difference between ASCII and Unicode?
4. What does the + operator do when used with strings?
5. What is a method?
6. Write the Python code that would create a variable called text, assign the word "Pie" to it. Create a new variable called multiple_text which contains the word "Pie" 5 times. Use the * operator to create the multiple_text variable. Output both variables.
7. Write the Python code that would create a variable called name, assign your name to it.
 - a Output the length of your name.
 - b Output your name all in uppercase.
 - c Output your name with just the first letter capitalised.
 - d Output the first letter of your name.
 - e Output the last letter of your name.
 - f Output the first five letters of your name.
 - g Output whether or not your name contains a space.